

The 10 questions, by dimension

These are fresh proxy questions that score the same five readiness dimensions, written so they do not copy your live worksheet (attendees still answer the real worksheet on the day). On the event day the room can see, live, what percentage chose A, B, C or D for each question. Please confirm the dimensions and scoring match how you define readiness.

01 Profile

Q1 Your professional profile, in one line, is closest to:

- A A specific problem I solve for companies
- B My job title and years of experience
- C A long list of everything I have done
- D I have not really defined it

Q2 If a recruiter scanned your CV for 8 seconds, what would catch them?

- A A clear result, backed by a number, matching the role
- B A relevant title and solid experience
- C A wall of responsibilities and tools
- D Honestly, nothing stands out

03 German & Skills

Q5 On German language plus market-ready technical skills, you are:

- A B2+ and I can prove my skills with documented results
- B Building German (A2-B1), skills are solid
- C Skills strong, German barely started
- D Early on both

Q6 How recently have you used German in a real, unscripted conversation?

- A This week: I actively practise speaking
- B Within the last month
- C Rarely: I study more than I speak
- D I have not really spoken it

05 90-Day Plan

Q9 Your plan for the next 90 days is:

- A Written and specific, with weekly actions
- B A clear goal, but no real plan
- C A rough intention
- D Honestly, just hope

Q10 In the last 7 days, how many concrete actions did you take toward Germany?

- A Several: it is part of a routine
- B One or two
- C I meant to, but did not
- D None

02 Strategy

Q3 Right now, your German job search looks most like:

- 3 A A targeted system: chosen companies, direct outreach, a routine
- 2 B Steady applying, mostly through job portals
- 1 C Bursts of effort when motivation strikes
- 0 D I have not really started

Q4 When you want to reach a German company, your default move is:

- 3 A Find and message the right person directly
- 2 B Apply, and also try to find a contact
- 1 C Apply through the portal and wait
- 0 D I do not really reach companies directly

04 Mindset

Q7 When months pass with no results, what honestly happens in your head?

- 3 A I look for what to change and adjust the approach
- 2 B I push harder doing the same things
- 1 C I start doubting it is possible for someone like me
- 0 D I pause and drift for a while

Q8 When another Indian engineer lands a job in Germany, your honest reaction is:

- 3 A I study what they did and apply it
- 2 B I am motivated, but unsure how they did it
- 1 C I feel behind and a little discouraged
- 0 D I tell myself they got lucky
